

Australian Securities and Investments Commission National Credit Code – Subsection 203A(1) – Exemption

Enabling power

1. The Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) makes this instrument under subsection 203A(1) of the National Credit Code (the Code).

Note: The Code is Schedule 1 to the National Consumer Credit Protection Act 2009.

Title

2. This instrument is ASIC Instrument [18-0123].

Commencement

3. This instrument commences on the date it is signed.

Exemption

4. FlexiCards Australia Pty Ltd ACN 099 651 877 (FlexiCards) does not have to comply with regulation 79B of the National Consumer Credit Protection Regulations 2010 (the Regulations) in relation to a periodic statement of account (statement of account) prepared and given under Division 5 of Part 2 of the Code in relation to a credit card contract.

Where the exemption applies

5. The exemption in paragraph 4 applies if:
 - (a) under the terms of the credit card contract:
 - (i) the debtor may choose to enter into a payment arrangement (instalment plan) in relation to an amount that exceeds $249.99 of the total outstanding balance under the contract, but does not exceed 80% of the debtor's credit limit, under which that part of the outstanding balance is required to be paid by equal monthly instalments over a period of time chosen by the debtor; and
 - (ii) in relation to any amount of the outstanding balance under the contract that is not subject to an instalment plan (revolving balance), the minimum required payment each month is the greater of 3% of the revolving balance that is outstanding as at the issue date of the statement of account and $30; and
 - (iii) the annual percentage rate in relation to the outstanding balance under an instalment plan does not exceed 10% per annum; and
 - (iv) the establishment fees relating to an instalment plan will not exceed:
 - (A) 3% for a 9 month term;
 - (B) 4% for a 12 month term; and

- (C) 5% for a 15 month term; and
- (b) the statement of account includes a warning and details in the form specified in the Schedule to this instrument, unless:
 - (i) the total outstanding balance shown on the statement is $50 or less; or
 - (ii) there is no outstanding balance; or
 - (iii) a payment arrangement is in effect which replaces the normal monthly minimum payments in relation to both the revolving balance (if any) and the balance under any instalment plans;
- (c) the front page of the statement of account includes the following information:
 - (i) the total amount owing under the credit card contract as at the issue date of the statement of account; and
 - (ii) total amount of interest charged during the month that is the subject of the statement of account; and
- (d) if the debtor has, or has had, one or more instalment plans during the period covered by the statement of account, the following information in relation to each instalment plan is contained in the statement of account:
 - (i) the instalment plan name or identifier;
 - (ii) the term of the instalment plan;
 - (iii) the current balance of the instalment plan;
 - (iv) the amount required to be paid by the debtor each month under the instalment plan; and
 - (v) the remaining duration of the instalment plan; and
- (e) if the debtor has, or has had, one or more instalment plans during the period covered by the statement of account, the statement of account displays the interest rate applicable to each instalment plan for that period; and
- (f) for any instalment plan referred to in the statement of account, FlexiCards has given to the debtor, before the debtor entered into the instalment plan, the following information:
 - (i) the amount required to be paid by the debtor each month under the instalment plan;
 - (ii) the total amount of interest charges that will be paid by the debtor under the instalment plan over the duration of the instalment plan;

- (iii) the total amount of any fees that will be paid by the debtor under the instalment plan over the duration of the instalment plan;
- (iv) the interest rate applying to the instalment plan as at the time of entering the instalment plan; and
- (v) the duration of the instalment plan.

Note: The tolerances and assumptions under sections 180 and 182 of the Code apply to the information required to be given by the instrument.

Conditions

6. FlexiCards must provide to ASIC, in writing, by:

- (a) 31 March 2019; and
- (b) 31 March 2020 (each a report date), information about consumer usage of the credit card contract in the 12 month period before the relevant report date, including:

- (c) the number of consumers that have entered the credit card contract in that 12 month period;
- (d) the number of consumers that have created one or more instalment plans in that 12 month period; and
- (e) the number of consumers that have defaulted on their instalment plan (if any) in that 12 month period.

Schedule

1. If the time to pay off the closing revolving balance, making only the minimum payment each month, is more than 2 years, the form of the warning and details referred to in paragraph 5(b) is as follows:

Minimum Repayment Warning: If you make only the minimum payment each month, you will pay more interest and it will take you longer to pay off your balance.

For example, for the revolving balance portion of your total outstanding balance:

If you make no additional charges using this card and each month you pay ...	You will pay off the Closing Balance shown on this statement in about ...	And you will end up paying an estimated total of interest charges for that revolving balance of...
Only the minimum payment for the closing revolving balance	[period]	[total interest 1]
[repayment 2]	2 years	[total interest 2], a saving of [savings 2]

2. If the time to pay off the closing revolving balance, making only the minimum payment each month, is 2 years or less, the form of the warning and details referred to in paragraph 5(b) is as set out in paragraph 1 to this Schedule, but the item for [repayment 2] is not required.
3. In this Schedule:

period means the time, in years and months, needed to repay the revolving balance portion of the relevant credit contract, making the minimum repayment each month until the revolving balance is repaid, calculated on the assumption that:

- (a) the debtor pays the amount of the minimum payment mentioned in the statement of account each month; and
- (b) no other purchases or advances are added to the outstanding balance.

Note: The tolerances and assumptions in section 180 of the Code will apply to the calculation.

repayment 2 means the minimum repayment plus an additional monthly repayment amount required to pay off the total amount outstanding and interest charges under the revolving balance portion of the relevant credit contract in 2 years.

savings 2 is the difference between [total interest 1] and [total interest 2].

total interest 1 means the total interest payable if the debtor is making the minimum repayment each month until the revolving balance portion of the relevant credit contract is repaid.

total interest 2 means the total interest that the debtor would be charged if the debtor made payments of [repayment 2] to pay off the revolving balance portion of the relevant credit contract in 2 years.
