Corporations Act
Section 657A
Declaration of Unacceptable Circumstances

In the matter of Austral Coal Limited 02 (RR)

Under subsection 657EA(4) of the Corporations Act 2001, the Takeovers Panel hereby revokes the declaration of unacceptable circumstances made on 28 June 2005 in the matter of Austral Coal Limited 02 and makes the following declaration.

Background

Centennial's Bid for Austral Coal

- A. At all relevant times, Austral Coal Limited (Austral Coal) was subject to a takeover offer from Centennial Coal Company Limited (Centennial) announced on 23 February 2005 (Centennial Offer), the consideration under which was shares in Centennial.
- B. On 22 March 2005, Centennial disclosed a relevant interest in 9.6% of the Austral Coal Shares then on issue.
- C. On 23 March 2005 Centennial announced that it had declared its offers unconditional and that acceptances of its bid received by 7 April 2005 would be processed in time that the Centennial shares issued to the accepting offeree would rank for an interim dividend.
- D. On the morning of 5 April 2005, Centennial disclosed a relevant interest in 34.34% of Austral Coal Shares then on issue (equivalent to 39.7% prior to dilution by an issue on 1 April on conversion of convertible notes).
- E. On 7 April 2005 at 1.44 pm, Centennial announced that it had acquired a majority of the Austral Coal Shares.

Glencore's Purchases of Shares in Austral Coal

- F. In March 2005 and early April 2005, Glencore International AG (Glencore) was considering acquiring a strategic stake of the order of 10% or more in Austral Coal (through a nominee for a subsidiary).
- G. Prior to 21 March 2005, Glencore acquired 12,865,881 voting shares in Austral Coal (Austral Coal Shares) representing approximately 4.9% of Austral Coal Shares then on issue.
- H. On 24 March, Glencore bought a further 275,000 Austral Coal Shares, taking its holding to 4.99% of Austral Coal Shares then on issue.

05 / 1163

- I. On 4 April, Glencore bought a further 574,562 Austral Coal Shares, taking its holding to 4.6% of Austral Coal Shares then on issue.
- J. On 5 April, Glencore bought a further 5,575,000 Austral Coal Shares, taking its holding to 6.4% of Austral Coal Shares then on issue.
- K. On 6 April, Glencore bought a further 2,512,883 Austral Coal Shares, taking its holding to 7.2% of Austral Coal Shares then on issue.

The CSFB Swap

- L. On or before 21 March 2005, Glencore arranged a cash-settled equity swap (CSFB Swap) with Credit Suisse First Boston International (CSFB) (with CSFB as the equity amount payer) in respect of Austral Coal Shares.
- M. From time to time between 21 March 2005 and 30 March 2005, CSFB agreed to provide Glencore with swap exposure over numbers of reference shares, at initial prices, which corresponded with the numbers and prices of Austral Coal Shares it had purchased to hedge its exposure under the CSFB Swap (CSFB Hedge Shares) up to those times.
- N. The terms of the CSFB Swap were set out in a term sheet signed on 20 March 2005, and in an amended term sheet signed on 24 March. On 4 April, they were confirmed in similar terms, adjusted to reflect the extent of swap exposure actually provided and the initial price. The term sheets were expressed to be non-binding, but were signed by an authorised signatory for Glencore before CSFB provided any swap exposure.
- O. From the times between 21 March and 30 March that CSFB agreed to provide swap coverage to Glencore under the CSFB Swap and throughout the period from the morning of 22 March 2005 to the evening of 4 April 2005 (the Non-disclosure Period), there was a strong economic incentive for CSFB to hedge its exposure under the CSFB Swap by purchasing and retaining CSFB Hedge Shares (which CSFB did), giving Glencore a degree of de facto control over the disposal of the CSFB Hedge Shares, whether or not as a matter of law there was a binding contract before 4 April.
- P. Circumstances which contributed to this incentive included the actual and likely volatility of the price of Austral Coal Shares and the absence of satisfactory alternative hedges for CSFB's swap exposure.
- Q. On 21 March 2005, CSFB acquired 651,195 Austral Coal Shares representing approximately 0.2% of Austral Coal Shares, as CSFB Hedge Shares. This acquisition caused the aggregate of the Austral Coal Shares held by Glencore and the CSFB Hedge Shares acquired by CSFB to exceed 5% of Austral Coal Shares for the first time.

05 / 1163

- R. Between 22 March 2005 and 30 March 2005, CSFB acquired a further 11,448,865 Austral Coal Shares as CSFB Hedge Shares, so that the CSFB Hedge Shares were then approximately 4.6% of Austral Coal Shares then on issue.
- S. During the Non-disclosure Period, Glencore did not disclose any interest in the CSFB Hedge Shares acquired by CSFB during the period from 21 March 2005 to 30 March 2005, or any interest in swap arrangements with CSFB referable to corresponding numbers of Austral Coal Shares.

The ABN AMRO Swap

- T. On 31 March 2005, Glencore arranged a cash-settled equity swap (ABN AMRO Swap) with ABN AMRO Bank NV (ABN AMRO) (with ABN AMRO as the equity amount payer) in respect of Austral Coal Shares.
- U. From time to time between 31 March 2005 and 4 April 2005, ABN AMRO agreed to provide Glencore with swap exposure over numbers of reference shares, at initial prices, which corresponded with the numbers and prices of Austral Coal Shares it had purchased to hedge its exposure under the ABN AMRO Swap (ABN AMRO Hedge Shares) up to those times.
- V. The terms of the ABN AMRO Swap were set out in a draft confirmation before ABN AMRO provided any swap exposure to Glencore, and on 4 April confirmed in similar terms, adjusted to reflect the extent of swap exposure actually provided and the initial price.
- W. From the times ABN AMRO agreed to provide Glencore with swap exposure under the ABN AMRO Swap and throughout the remainder of the Non-disclosure Period, there was a strong economic incentive for ABN AMRO to hedge its exposure under the ABN AMRO Swap by purchasing and retaining ABN AMRO Hedge Shares (which ABN AMRO did), giving Glencore a degree of de facto control over the disposal of the ABN AMRO Hedge Shares, whether or not as a matter of law there was a binding contract before 4 April.
- X. Circumstances which contributed to this incentive included the actual and likely volatility of the price of Austral Coal Shares and the absence of satisfactory alternative hedges for ABN AMRO's swap exposure.
- Y. Between 31 March 2005 and 4 April 2005, ABN AMRO acquired 7,407,302 Austral Shares as ABN AMRO Hedge Shares, representing approximately 2.5% of Austral Coal Shares on issue as at 4 April 2005.
- Z. Between 31 March 2005 and the evening of 4 April 2005, Glencore did not disclose any interest in the ABN AMRO Hedge Shares acquired by ABN AMRO during this period, or any interest in swap agreements with ABN AMRO referable to corresponding numbers of Austral Coal Shares.

First Public Disclosure of these Positions

- AA. On the evening of 4 April and the morning of 5 April 2005, Glencore disclosed that it held approximately 5% of Austral Coal Shares and, in addition, had entered into cash-settled equity swap arrangements in regard to a further 7.4% of Austral Coal Shares. These percentages were based on the number of shares on issue before 1 April, and became 4.4% and 6.5% after dilution by the issue on 1 April.
- BB. During the Non-disclosure Period, the aggregated number of Austral Coal Shares comprised in Glencore's holding, the CSFB Hedge Shares and the ABN AMRO Hedge Shares (the Combined Holding) increased from 5.1% to 12.5% (before dilution) or 11.05% (after dilution).

Relation to Price of Austral Coal Shares

- CC. Throughout the Non-disclosure Period, the price of Austral Coal Shares on the stock market of Australian Stock Exchange Ltd was always close to the implied value of the Centennial Offer, based on the current price of shares in Centennial on that market.
- DD. Between the morning of 5 April 2005 and the time on 7 April 2005 when Centennial announced that it had acquired a majority of the Austral Coal Shares, the price of Austral Coal Shares was approximately 10 cents higher than the attributed value of the Centennial bid.

Circumstances and Effects

Having regard to the background set out above, the Panel finds that:

1. Having regard to the degree of power that Glencore was able to exert over:
 - (a) disposal by CSFB of the CSFB Hedge Shares by reason of the CSFB Swap, and
 - (b) disposal by ABN AMRO of the ABN AMRO Hedge Shares by reason of the ABN AMRO Swap, in the context of the circumstances of Austral Coal and the Centennial bid for Austral Coal after the Combined Holding exceeded 5% of all Austral Coal Shares and throughout the Non-disclosure Period:

- (c) Glencore's direct shareholding in Austral Coal and its swap exposure together constituted a substantial interest in Austral Coal; and
- (d) the existence and growth of Glencore's substantial interest during the Non-disclosure Period was information which was relevant to the market in Austral Coal Shares in the same way and to the same degree as would have been the existence and growth of a substantial holding within the meaning of section 671B of the Act comprising the same numbers of Austral Coal Shares from time to time.

2. Throughout the Non-disclosure Period, Glencore had every reason to believe that the swap positions were hedged with Austral Coal shares.
3. Shareholders in Austral Coal did not during the Non-disclosure Period know the identity of Glencore as a person who proposed to acquire, and was actively acquiring, a substantial interest in Austral Coal.
4. Had shareholders in Austral Coal and the rest of the market in Austral Coal Shares been aware during the Non-disclosure Period of the existence and growth of Glencore's substantial interest and of the connection of Glencore with that substantial interest, then throughout the Non-disclosure Period:
 - (a) buyers and sellers in that market would have been more relevantly informed as to the extent and nature of demand for Austral Coal Shares, including the potential demand for Austral Coal Shares to hedge swap exposures; and
 - (b) other buyers and sellers are likely to have entered that market, with the result that there would have been more competition to buy and sell Austral Coal Shares in that market; and
 - (c) that market would have operated more efficiently than it did to price and allocate Austral Coal Shares.
5. These circumstances have also affected adversely the acquisition by Centennial of control of Austral Coal and of a substantial interest in Austral Coal, by causing those events to occur in a market which was less efficient, competitive and informed than it should have been.
6. Having regard to trading in Austral Coal Shares during the Non-disclosure Period and on 5, 6 and 7 April, throughout the Non-disclosure Period prices paid in that market for Austral Coal Shares would have been higher than in fact they were, if shareholders in Austral Coal and the rest of the market in Austral Coal Shares had been aware during the Non-disclosure Period of the existence and growth of Glencore's substantial interest and of the connection of Glencore with Glencore's substantial interest.

This circumstance:

- (a) has affected adversely the acquisition by Glencore of a substantial interest in Austral Coal, by causing that acquisition to occur in a market which was less efficient, competitive and informed than it should have been; and
- (b) has affected adversely the interests of persons who sold Austral Coal Shares on the market operated by Australian Stock Exchange Limited during the Non-disclosure Period; and

- (c) has correspondingly benefited Glencore, through lower initial prices under the CSFB Swap and the ABN AMRO Swap, which increase the prospect of Glencore making profits at the close-out of the swaps.
7. Having regard to the effect of the circumstances mentioned in these findings on the acquisition of substantial interests in Austral Coal by both Centennial and by Glencore and of control of Austral Coal by Centennial and to the commercial considerations mentioned above and the legislative policy of Chapter 6 as set out in section 602, the Panel finds that those circumstances are unacceptable circumstances in relation to the affairs of Austral Coal.
8. It is not against the public interest to declare that the circumstances mentioned in these findings are unacceptable circumstances.

Under section 657A of the Corporations Act 2001, the Takeovers Panel declares that the circumstances mentioned in findings in this instrument are unacceptable circumstances in relation to the affairs of Austral Coal.

3. ASIC may give effect to order 2 by arranging to pay the appropriate amount to the broker who acted for the vendor in each relevant sale, with a message identifying the sale and advising the broker that the payment is for the benefit of the vendor under that sale, except that the broker may deduct from the payment its reasonable costs of effecting the payment.
4. ASIC may deduct from the remaining $10,000 the expenses reasonably incurred by it in giving effect to these orders, including without limitation the value of staff time and disbursements. The balance (if any) is to be refunded to Glencore.
5. Any party to these proceedings may apply for further orders amending, supplementing or clarifying these orders, including without limitation orders about the distribution of the fund and the costs of the distribution.
