INFRINGEMENT NOTICE

Section 12GXA of the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001

Day of issue: 7 December 2018

Unique identification code: R20180002412605

TO: Australian Corporate Bond Company Limited
ACN: 169 442 657
Suite 2 Level 10
1 Chifley Square
Sydney NSW 2000

1. ASIC issues this infringement notice under section 12GXA of the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001 (ASIC Act).
2. ASIC has reasonable grounds to believe that, in the period from 8 December to 12 December 2017 (Relevant Period), Australian Corporate Bond Company Limited (ACN 169 442 657) (Australian Corporate Bond Company) contravened an infringement notice provision of the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001 (Cth) (ASIC Act), being section 12DB(1)(e) of the ASIC Act by, in trade or commerce, in connection with the supply or possible supply of financial services, or in connection with the promotion by any means of the supply or use of financial services, making false or misleading representations that services have sponsorship, approval, performance characteristics, uses or benefits.

Particulars

- (a) During the Relevant Period, Australian Corporate Bond Company made in Australia various statements concerning Exchange Traded Bonds issued by Australian Corporate Bond Company in the Australian Corporate Bond Trust (XTBs) and term deposits, in particular in relation to the returns available from investment in XTBs compared to term deposits, and the key attributes of XTBs compared to term deposits (see, in particular, the table). The statements were published on the "Term Deposits" pages of Australian Corporate Bond Company's website (www.xtbs.com.au), a copy of which is provided at Appendix 1 (Statements):
- (b) ASIC is concerned that the Statements represented that Australian Corporate Bond Company had compared the key attributes of term deposits and XTBs and that investment in XTBs has an equivalent or substantially the same risk as investment in term deposits, while producing a higher return (Representation).
- (c) ASIC has reasonable grounds to believe that the Representation was false or misleading because the risks involved in an investment in XTBs is not equivalent to or substantially the same as investment in term deposits. As an example, monies invested in a term deposit, up to $250,000, are protected by the Australian Government's guarantee for Authorised Deposit Taking Institutions, and no such protection exists for monies invested in XTBs.
