ASIC Privacy Notice for the use of Eventbrite

Information you provide to the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (US/WE/OUR) in the event registration form will include personal information as defined under the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (the Privacy Act).

Purpose of collection

We are collecting your personal information to plan and organise ASIC's RegTech or Innovation Hub events as well as process and manage your registration, where applicable. We also collect it for the purposes of updating our Regtech or Innovation Hub mailing list which distributes emails with news, events and updates.

How will we collect and store the information?

- We are using Eventbrite Inc. (Eventbrite), a third party located in the USA, to collect your personal information through Eventbrite's website <https://www.eventbrite.com.au/>.
- Eventbrite will store your personal information in a password-protected account that may only be accessed by our authorised officers. Eventbrite may use your personal information for various purposes stated in Eventbrite's Privacy Policy, including for marketing. You may contact Eventbrite about opting out of marketing communications by following instructions in their Privacy Policy.

What we collect

The information we collect from you through Eventbrite includes your:

- Full name and email address
- Work information – job title, company/organisation, work address
- Demonstrators only – credentials and submissions as to why you should be selected to present at the event.

It is optional to provide your contact phone number and website.

Who is Eventbrite?

Eventbrite is a ticketing and registration platform based in California, USA. You can find Eventbrite's Privacy Policy on the Eventbrite website.

Please note, Eventbrite is not bound by the Australian Privacy Principles under the Privacy Act (the APPs). If you consent to Eventbrite collecting your personal information on our behalf, we will not be liable for any act done by Eventbrite which is a breach of the APPs and you will not have any remedies under the Privacy Act by any act done by Eventbrite.

Eventbrite's Privacy Policy states they may use your personal information for internal business purposes as well as marketing and advertising purposes. They take what they believe to be reasonable steps to protect personal information collected from loss, misuse, unauthorised use, access, inadvertent disclosure, alteration and destruction. You may also request that Eventbrite correct, update or delete your personal information by contacting Eventbrite directly.

Further information

For further information about how we handle your personal information, your rights to seek access to and correct personal information held by ASIC, and to complain about breaches of your privacy, please refer to our Privacy Policy.

If you have any questions about this Privacy Notice or the event registration process, please email us at regtech.initiatives@asic.gov.au for Regtech events or innovationhub@asic.gov.au for Innovation Hub events.

Consent

By registering for an ASIC Regtech or Innovation Hub event via Eventbrite, you confirm you have read and understand this privacy notice and the ASIC Privacy Policy and consent to Eventbrite to collecting your personal information.
