Concise Statement

No. QUD

of 2026

Federal Court of Australia
District Registry: Queensland
Division: General

Australian Securities and Investments Commission

Plaintiff

Clark Family Pty Ltd (ACN 010 281 008)

Defendant

A IMPORTANT FACTS GIVING RISE TO CLAIM

1. This proceeding concerns representations that the defendant (Clark Family) made on multiple websites regarding its insurance and credit comparison services. The plaintiff (ASIC) alleges that Clark Family misled consumers and businesses seeking insurance and credit products by representing that Clark Family compared rates and options from multiple insurance providers and lenders, and provided tailored policies and options to suit consumers' needs. In fact, Clark Family operated a lead generation platform through which it sold consumers' details to the highest bidder. In doing so, Clark Family did not compare any rates and options, provide consumers with multiple quotes from which they could compare rates and options, or provide consumers with tailored policies to suit their needs.

The conduct

2. From 18 September 2020 to 18 September 2026 (Relevant Period), Clark Family operated a digital marketing and lead generation platform, which involved up to 70 lead generation websites. Its business consisted of assisting consumers to obtain financial services, products (in particular, insurance contracts and credit facilities) and information online, including by connecting consumers with entities registered with Clark Family (Brokers) who could acquire insurance policies and credit facilities for the consumer (together, the Services). By providing the Services during the Relevant Period, Clark Family provided a financial service within the meaning of s 12BAB(1) of the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001 (Cth) (ASIC Act).

3. Consumers could access the Services via Clark Family's publicly available website www.financialservicesonline.com.au (Financial Services Online) and its other websites (collectively Lead Generation Websites). Consumers accessed the Services by providing their name, contact information, and details relevant to the insurance or credit facility they were interested in (for example, "loan purpose", "loan amount", "employment status" and "income") (Customer Information) to Clark Family via the website. Screenshots of the homepage of Financial Services Online and some of the Lead Generation Websites is at Annexure A. Clark Family marketed its Services to members of the public through various online and offline advertising channels, including Google and Microsoft advertising.
4. Clark Family then sold the Customer Information as a "Lead" to a Broker. Leads were sold by electronic auction to the Broker with the highest priced bid.
5. Clark Family informed the consumer that their enquiry had been assigned to a Broker, who would contact them directly, and provided some or all of the Customer Information to the Broker. Clark Family had no further contact with the consumer or the Broker in relation to the consumer's enquiry unless a complaint was made.

The Comparison Representations

6. Throughout the Relevant Period, Clark Family represented on Financial Services Online and its Lead Generation Websites that it would compare, or help consumers to compare, rates and options for insurance contracts and credit facilities from multiple insurers and lenders (Comparison Representations). The Comparison Representations are set out in Annexure B. The Comparison Representations: (1) were in connection with the supply or possible supply of the Services, or in connection with the promotion of the supply or use of the Services; and (2) concerned the nature and characteristics of the Services – in particular, that Clark Family would provide a comparison service.
7. Throughout the Relevant Period, Clark Family did not compare, or directly offer consumers a comparison between, any insurance contracts or credit facilities. Instead, it provided the Customer Information to a Broker. Between September 2020 and 31 August 2021, there was no obligation on Brokers to source or offer quotes or products from more than one provider. From 1 September 2021 onwards, Clark Family's broker terms and conditions (Broker Terms) required Brokers to offer or discuss product options from more than one product provider only "where multiple suitable options are available to" the Broker, and "where practical and subject to [the Broker's] expertise". Clark Family did not audit Brokers to check or ensure that Brokers: (1) complied with the Broker Terms (when applicable); and/or (2) assisted consumers to compare rates and options from multiple insurance or credit providers.

8. By making the Comparison Representations, in circumstances where:
 - a. Clark Family did not provide any comparison service, and was unaware of whether its Brokers provided any comparison service;
 - b. further or alternatively, the Comparison Representations were representations with respect to future matters within the meaning of s 12BB(1)(a) of the ASIC Act and there was no reasonable basis for Clark Family to make the Comparison Representations;

Clark Family:
 - c. made false or misleading representations that its Services had particular performance characteristics or benefits; and
 - d. further or alternatively, engaged in conduct that was liable to mislead the public as to the nature and/or characteristics of the Services.

The Tailored Representations

9. Throughout the Relevant Period, Clark Family represented on Financial Services Online and its Lead Generation Websites that it offered policies and options for insurance contracts and credit facilities that were tailored or customised to suit the consumer's individual needs (Tailored Representations). The Tailored Representations are set out in Annexure C. The Tailored Representations: (1) were in connection with the supply or possible supply of the Services, or in connection with the promotion of the supply or use of the Services; and (2) concerned the nature, characteristics, benefits and suitability for purpose of the Services – in particular, that Clark Family would provide products customised to suit the consumer's individual needs.
10. Throughout the Relevant Period, Clark Family did not provide any insurance contracts or credit facilities. If any insurance contracts or credit facilities were offered at all, that occurred via a Broker. Throughout the Relevant Period, Brokers were under no obligation to offer consumers policies or options that were tailored or customised to suit the consumer's individual needs. While Clark Family collected Customer Information from consumers, it did not allocate Brokers based upon that information but instead based upon the price offered for the Lead. Clark Family did not audit Brokers to check or ensure that consumers were offered tailored or customised policies and options to suit their individual needs.
11. By making the Tailored Representations, in circumstances where:

- a. Clark Family did not offer policies or options that were tailored or customised to suit consumers' individual needs, and was unaware of whether its Brokers offered such policies or options;
- b. further or alternatively, the Tailored Representations were representations with respect to future matters within the meaning of s 12BB(1)(a) of the ASIC Act and there was no reasonable basis for Clark Family to make the Tailored Representations;

Clark Family:

- c. made false or misleading representations that its Services had particular performance characteristics, uses or benefits; and
- d. further or alternatively, engaged in conduct that was liable to mislead the public as to the nature or characteristics of the Services, and/or the suitability of the Services for their purpose.

B RELIEF SOUGHT FROM THE COURT

- 12. ASIC seeks the declaratory, pecuniary penalty and other relief set out in the accompanying originating process.

C PRIMARY LEGAL GROUNDS FOR RELIEF SOUGHT

- 13. By making the Comparison Representations and Tailored Representations, Clark Family in trade or commerce:
 - a. made a false or misleading representation that services have performance characteristics, uses or benefits in contravention of s 12DB(1)(e) of the ASIC Act; and
 - b. engaged in conduct that was liable to mislead the public as to the nature and characteristics of financial services, and further or alternatively as to the suitability of financial services for their purpose, in contravention of s 12DF(1) of the ASIC Act.

D ALLEGED HARM

- 14. By misleading prospective consumers of insurance contracts and credit facilities about the benefits of using its Services, Clark Family defeated or diminished genuine consumer choice. Clark Family's conduct may have caused consumers to purchase insurance policies or acquire credit facilities when a cheaper or more suitable option was available. Further, it may have resulted in other insurers or lenders losing customers they would otherwise have obtained had consumers not been misled.

15. Clark Family obtained a substantial benefit from its conduct, including the payments it received from Brokers in exchange for the Leads.

This concise statement was settled by Mei Barnes of Counsel.

Certificate of lawyer

I, Stephen Johnson, certify to the Court that, in relation to the concise statement filed on behalf of the plaintiff, the factual and legal material available to me at present provides a proper basis for each allegation in the concise statement.
