

EA:s 22 @asic.gov.au

Good news, the removal of officeholder residential address from the ASIC Connect Search Portal has been successfully deployed and tested in production. A big thank you to s 22 s 22, and their teams for all their hard work to get this across the line. As planned, the services will remain unavailable to the public until Monday morning.

In addition to these changes to our Search Portal, the publication of the revised ASIC website content, and other business readiness are good to go for Monday morning.

The correspondence products and media plan have been revised following valuable feedback. These are ready for review tomorrow morning before being sent to § 22 for her review and sign-off.

Looking forward to a successful rollout early Monday morning!

Kind regards,
