

CRIS: ASIC INDUSTRY FUNDING MODEL (2023–24)

This document is part of ASIC’s 2023–24 CRIS. It should be read in conjunction with the other documents that make up the CRIS, including the key terms.

C Deposit taking and credit sector

Key points

This document outlines:

- our work during 2023–24 to regulate the deposit taking and credit sector—for our ongoing regulatory activities, see paragraphs 1–6, and our strategic work, see Table 1;
- the estimated levies to recover our costs—for a summary of the estimated levies for each subsector, see Table 2; and
- more detailed breakdowns of estimated costs for each subsector—see paragraphs 11–16.

The indicative levies are a guide only. The final levies will be based on our actual cost of regulating each subsector in 2023–24.

Overview of the deposit taking and credit sector

- 1 The deposit taking and credit sector consists of:
 - (a) credit providers;
 - (b) small and medium amount credit providers;
 - (c) credit intermediaries;
 - (d) deposit product providers;
 - (e) payment product providers; and
 - (f) margin lenders.

Ongoing regulatory work

- 2 We administer Australia’s consumer credit laws to improve consumer outcomes. We do this by ensuring credit licensees, such as lenders and brokers, comply with their conduct and disclosure obligations. These obligations include general conduct requirements—such as the obligation to engage in credit activities efficiently, honestly and fairly—and specific requirements intended to reduce the extent to which consumers are provided products that do not meet their needs. The consumer credit laws also contain requirements that relate to conduct and consumer outcomes after a loan has been obtained.

3 We also monitor AFS licensees’ (e.g. authorised deposit takers and payment product providers) compliance with their obligations and other requirements under the Corporations Act. When we identify a potential harm or breach of the law, we determine the most appropriate response.

4 We use the full suite of our regulatory tools to promote integrity in this sector to bring about sound consumer outcomes. We assess and respond to compliance and misconduct issues through proactive or reactive surveillances. Where appropriate, we take enforcement action, to address misconduct (such as predatory lending or debt collection misconduct). This action may span several years. We use our product intervention power when there is a risk of significant consumer detriment, and apply intensive supervision to institutions with the greatest potential impact on consumers and markets.

5 The level of our regulatory activity in each subsector of the deposit taking and credit sector depends on the nature of the services offered as well as the scale of operations. For example, those with significant customer bases present a greater potential risk to consumers, investors and markets, and therefore may require more regulatory attention.

6 We work closely with the Australian Government and other regulatory agencies (particularly the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA)) to achieve a coordinated approach to regulation. This includes supporting and advising the Government on new reforms. Through engagement with industry, we influence our regulated population to improve compliance and minimise consumer harm.

Strategic work in this sector

7 ASIC’s Corporate Plan 2023–27: Focus 2023–24 outlines our strategic priorities for the next four years and our planned actions for 2023–24. The corporate plan also sets out our core strategic projects, which support the delivery on our strategic priorities.

8 Our strategic priorities inform our 2024 enforcement priorities which communicate our intent to industry and indicate where we will direct our resources and expertise.

9 Table 1 outlines our areas of focus in the deposit taking and credit sector in 2023–24.

Note: In Table 1, the strategic work may apply to the listed relevant subsectors, depending on prevailing circumstances. Our key actions for some strategic work can apply to multiple sectors and subsectors, particularly for our core strategic projects. This means that there may be other relevant sectors and subsectors for this work outside the deposit taking and credit sector.
